

Establishing a ClimateWatch Trail

Thank you for requesting to establish a ClimateWatch Trail.

Contributions from Earthwatch

Earthwatch provides the following when establishing ClimateWatch Trails:

- The creation trail webpage on the ClimateWatch website www.climatewatch.org.au. The page will include a link to the client's webpage
- Create field guides for each trail of the ClimateWatch indicator species (both flora and fauna) to be monitored along the trail. Field guides will be available online
- Create a map of each trail with the location of the indicator species labelled
- Develop a recording sheet, which includes the map and indicator species for each trail. This will be available for download on the trail webpage
- Information for signage where appropriate, including logos

Contributions from trail coordinators/clients

In order to allow development of the trails, you will need to provide the following:

- A map detailing the trail
- A list of the ClimateWatch indicator species which are present along each trail
- GPS locations (if possible) of the ClimateWatch indicator species or sections of trails where they are present
- Background information for the trail webpages
- All appropriate logos, i.e.: corporate, councils and government, along with specifications for appropriate display of logos
- Signage and markers along the trail

Indicative timeline for development of trails

-  To be completed by client
-  To be completed by Earthwatch
